

Sponsorship Dundee Mountain Film Festival

A word about DMFF...

Dundee Mountain Film Festival (DMFF) is the UK's longest-running mountain film festival, welcoming hundreds of visitors each year.

Since its inception in 1983, DMFF has built an outstanding reputation for bringing together an inspiring line-up of national and international films and speakers.

Our exceptional programme of films showcases adventures in mountain landscapes and other challenging environments around the world, from bike-packing the Munros of Scotland to kite-skiing in remote Canada and ice-climbing in Nepal.

Audiences, from curious newcomers to dedicated outdoor enthusiasts, are also inspired by fascinating stories, experiences, and insights from some of the most respected voices in the mountain and adventure community at DMFF speaker talks.

These talks celebrate not only renowned personalities but also local heroes and emerging talent. By providing a platform for both established and up-and-coming speakers, DMFF continues to inspire and support those who enjoy mountain and outdoor activities, whether for recreation, exploration or professional pursuits.

Away from the main stage, visitors can also explore a vibrant exhibition featuring trade partners, voluntary organisations, photography and local mountaineering clubs, all designed to deepen appreciation of and connection to the mountain environment.

Together, these elements make Dundee Mountain Film Festival a truly inspiring celebration of daring adventure, creativity, and the wonders of the natural world.
